

Veterans to Be Honored In Special Ceremonies

Veterans Day observances throughout the nation will pay tribute to the men and women who have defended the nation in the wars and conflicts throughout American history.

Until 1954, the day was officially designated Armistice Day, commemorating the end of hostilities on Nov. 11, 1918, in the First World War. In 1954, the day was designated Veterans Day to enable the nation to pay tribute to all veterans of all wars.

The focal point of national observances is Arlington National Cemetery, final resting place of thousands of veterans—including the Unknown Soldiers and two presidents. There are some 22 million living veterans in the United States today, and they have fought in wars ranging from the Spanish-American War of 1898 to two world wars, the Korean War, and today's battle in Viet Nam.

Long Beach, one of the five officially designated cities to hold a Veterans Day parade, honored the veterans last Sunday. Among the special programs slated today is one at the Los Angeles Memorial Sports Arena, with Supervisor Kenneth Hahn as the main speaker.

The program began at 11 a.m., with the Los Caballeros Youth Band presenting a musical program at 10:30.

Supervisors Urge Repeal of New Voting Time Extension

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn has charged that keeping election boards open until 8 p.m. in Los Angeles County "delayed returns, made difficult working conditions for members of the boards, and was completely unnecessary."

A motion by Hahn calling for the repeal of the 8 p.m. closing time was endorsed by the Board of Supervisors. The supervisors called for the establishment of uniform polling hours in all 58 California counties.

Hahn said the decision to keep the polls open until 8 p.m. in some large counties was made by the Legislature without consultation with local officials. "Twelve hours is long enough," Hahn said. "With city, county and state employees having the day off and other workers being allowed by State law to take time off from work to cast their ballot, the extension was absolutely pointless," he added.
